Introduction

Research is a complex activity that is seldom conducted in a structured fashion. Research involves generating and consolidating data, content and information on the one hand, while managing people and communication on the other. Based on this a number of critical and informed decisions are often made.

The Project Triangle

Research projects mandate planning around a number of parameters like quality, time, financial resources as well as the scope that you need to deliver within.

MindCraft's Research Management System has been created to mitigate these complexities associated with research.

Solution - ProWiz

ProWiz is an easy-to-deploy, reliable, solution. It allows you to track the status of projects, and includes features like budgeting, project plan, task allocation, Gantt Chart, auto escalations, reminders, etc.

The solution helps you track tasks, get progress updates, and provides research cost tracking functionality in a robust and secure environment. This enables you to easily track the ROI of your research activities.

Tailored to meet the needs of Pharmaceutical Research Projects, ProWiz is not just any project management software, but one that is best suited to help researchers collaborate and manage projects efficiently.
